Great Wall of China Trek

Activity: Trek Grade: Duration: 10 days

One of the Seven Wonders of the World, The Great Wall of China has to be the ultimate building project the world has ever known; constructed by human hands over 2000 years ago, it stretches across this hilly region with long spurs and watch-towers often disappearing into the mists.

Our trek is very varied, as we pass through woodland and terraced farmland, and follow the contours of the beautiful hills and mountains in remote areas north of Beijing. We follow old sections of the Great Wall, as well as restored sections with smooth flagstones and lots of steps!

This challenge is physically demanding and offers fabulous scenery and a fascinating insight into a rich culture and history.

Detailed Itinerary

Day 1: Depart London for Beijing

Day 2: Arrive Beijing

We transfer to our city hotel, where we can freshen up and relax! Depending on our flight times, there should be time for some sight-seeing at Tianenman Square and the Forbidden City (if not we'll do this on Day 9). There will be a full trip briefing in the evening. Night hotel.

Day 3: Beijing – Huangyaguan

We transfer this morning from the busy streets of Beijing, driving northwest into the hills above Huangyaguan, a small town situated in a beautiful valley in the heart of the Yanshan Mountains. After a scenic drive through a landscape of hills and lakes, we arrive at our village and see the Great Wall for the first time, as it snakes along the ridgeline of the mountains. After a good traditional lunch we start our trek! The Wall is well renovated here and it disappears into the horizon in both directions. After some steep step sections, which give us a good inkling of what lies ahead, we walk predominantly downhill until we reach Huangyaguan. Here the wall crosses the road that leads to our nearby accommodation. Night mountain hotel.

Drive approx 4 hours; trek approx 2 – 3 hours

Day 4: Huangyaguan – Mountain Village

Our day's walk begins where we left the Wall yesterday, and we head up the steep renovated steps towards what appears to be a sheer cliff face. This is where we encounter 'Heaven's Ladder', a steep climb of over 200 steps leading us up the cliff face. There are fabulous views from the top, and once we have caught our breath the path continues gradually on steep tracks through forest, up to the top of the ridge. Once again we join the old Wall, and follow it along the contours of the mountain until we clamber down into the valley below. We bed down in the houses of a local village, a real cultural experience. Night farmers' houses.

Trek approx 7 hours

Day 5: Mountain Village – Jinshanlin

Waving goodbye to our hospitable hosts, we head up through the farming terraces immediately behind the village. The path is steep, and the terraces soon give way to rocky hillsides scattered with scrub. Eventually we re-join the Wall, which is unrestored and crumbling so we follow a path which takes us alongside it, with fabulous views along the ridgeline to the day's highest point. We then drop down the hillside and make our way on winding tracks through trees back into the valley, where farmers grow maize, and walnut and fruit trees. Back at the village, we walk along the village road to our waiting transport. Our drive through the mountains to Jinshanlin is very scenic. Night mountain hotel.

Trek approx 4 – 5 hours; drive approx 3-4 hours

Day 6: Gubeiko – Jinshanlin

A quick 20-minute hop in the bus takes us to our start point just outside the village of Gubeiko. We walk through the village and farmland until our path takes us alongside an un-restored yet well-preserved section of the Wall. This part appears to be of almost brick-like construction and dates back to the Qing Dynasty – the last dynasty to rule over this vast land. We follow a track down into the valley in order to skirt a Chinese military post and follow dirt paths through trees and undergrowth before rejoining the Wall. There are some steep sections and we help each other out if need be. Stunning views of the Great Wall snaking along the hilltops keep us going whenever we find it tough! The final stretch to Jinshanlin is on restored Wall with lots

Trekking Information

Our treks are graded from 1 (Moderate) to 5 (Extreme). This trek is Grade 1. Walking is partly on flagstones of various conditions on the Wall, and partly on paths through woodland and farmland. At times it is rough and rocky underfoot, at other times it can be muddy. There are also many steps. If you are unsteady on your feet you will find trekking poles useful. You will trek approximately 70km on this trip overall; it's more useful when training to think about the terrain and the hours you need to walk for!

Weather

Spring and autumn are good times to travel, with warm sunny days which aren't too hot or cold, though it can be cooler up in the hills. Rain showers aren't unusual, and it can be windy. The autumn can be cooler than spring. Weather conditions can change quickly, and you should be prepared for anything. Average temperatures in Beijing range between 7-27 °C.

FITNESS WARNING: DESIGNED TO BE CHALLENGING!

This ride is designed to be challenging for those of good health and fitness, and is achievable for most people provided they train well in advance. We will supply you with a thorough training guide when you have registered. Training for the challenge is all part of the preparation and requires commitment! Without it, you will find the ride less enjoyable – and we want you to have the time of your life!

Day 7: Jinshanlin – Watchtower Panorama – Mutianyu

Starting where we left off yesterday, we head up the carefully restored steps which take us into the mountains one final time. The scenery is superb with rolling purple hills fading into the distance, dotted with many watchtowers; classic 'scales on a dragon's back' scenery. After time to soak up this breathtaking panorama, we head down on small to meet our waiting transport which takes us to Mutianyu. Night mountain hotel.

Day 8: Mutianyu – Beijing

Our trek starts with a brief walk through a friendly village before we climb for 1-2 hours up the hillside, where we may see villagers gathering firewood. We can see the Wall high on the ridge ahead of us, and slowly wind our way up to it. Once more our efforts are rewarded by stunning views as the Wall disappears from view in both directions. We continue along the well-restored Wall flagstones, with some good sections of steps, before descending down to the village at Mutianyu.
