This guide and the accompanying case studies have been produced by staff from Family Action's Childcare in Schools Team, and funded by the Department for Education (DfE).

Thank you

Family Action would like to thank all the school-based childcare providers taking part in the Childcare in Schools project for allowing us to develop case studies that record their journey towards setting up more inclusive childcare practices for 0–5 with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

We would also like to thank all the other school-based childcare providers and parents/carers we have worked with for: welcoming us to their setting and for sharing their experiences and tips for other settings; and for supporting us to develop a range of case studies for the Learning Exchange website: www.learning-exchange.org.uk

We would also like to thank: Paul Mephram (cover design). Unless otherwise indicated, photos included are © Shutterstock
