

Gender Pay Gap Report 2019

1. Introduction:

New regulations were introduced in 2017 which mean that voluntary sector employers with more than 250 employees are required to report on a number of different statistical measures of gender pay as at the snapshot date of 5 April each year. This is the report for the snapshot date of 5 April 2019.

At the snapshot dates of 5 April 2019, at Family Action:

- There were 652 employees
- 591 employees (91%) were female
- 61 employees (9%) were male.

The statistical measures that we are required to report on as at the snapshot date of 5 April 2019, are as follows:

- a. Mean gender pay gap
- b. Median gender pay gap
- c. Mean bonus gender pay gap
- d. Median bonus gender pay gap
- e. The proportion of males receiving a bonus payment
- f. The proportion of females receiving a bonus payment
- g. The proportion of males and females in each quartile pay band

2: Gender Pay Gap Headline Figures:

The figures in this report have been calculated using the standard format required by legislation – the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017 (the 'Regulations'), and are set out below:

Mean gender pay gap:

Mean Hourly Rate Female	Mean Hourly Rate Male
£13.90	£15.98

This gives us a mean gender pay gap of 13.1%. This figure is well below the current UK average gender pay gap of 17.9% (according to the Office for National Statistics)

Median gender pay gap:

Median Hourly Rate Female	Median Hourly Rate Male
£13.21	£14.19

This gives us median gender pay gap of 6.9%.

Bonuses:

Family Action does not operate a bonus scheme, as defined in regulation 4 of the Regulations.

Pay Quartiles:

The following table shows the proportion of men and women in each of the four 'quartile' pay bands. This is calculated by dividing the workforce into four equal parts based on hourly rates of pay.

Portion of Male and Females in each quartile band
Band	Male	Female
Lower	8.2%	91.8%
Lower Middle	7.1%	92.9%
Upper Middle	8.2%	91.8%
Upper	15.4%	84.6%

Our figures show a higher proportion of women than men in each of the four pay quartiles. Typically, there are more females employed in frontline roles, which reflect the higher percentages in the lower, lower middle and upper middle quartiles. The upper quartile has more males employed in fundraising, Digital Systems, facilities and some senior management positions, which typically attract higher salaries.

3. Next steps moving forward:

Family Action celebrated its 150 anniversary in 2019 and continues to be committed to building a diverse and inclusive workplace that gives equal opportunities to all employees irrespective of gender. We have a clear policy of paying employees equally for the same or equivalent work, regardless of their gender or any other protected characteristic. At the heart of this, are our core values; People Focus, Can Do, Excellence and Mutual Respect which underpin all of our work.

We are proud to report that we have achieved Level 2 Investors in Diversity Accreditation, and are accredited as a Disability Confident Employer. In addition, Family Action has also recently ranked the 53rd best charity to work for in the UK in 2019, in the Sunday Best 100 Companies Awards. We also achieved a 1 Star accreditation, which means we have "very good" levels of engagement within the organisation. This was our second entry in the top 100 list, and we are delighted to have moved up in the rankings from 57th last year.

Whilst our gender pay gap compares favourably with that of organisations both within the charity sector and across the whole UK economy we will continue to ensure that we are doing what we can over the next 12 months to address any gender pay issues, in line with our 'Building on 150 Years' strategy, and its 'Valuing Our People' objective.

Moving forward we will:

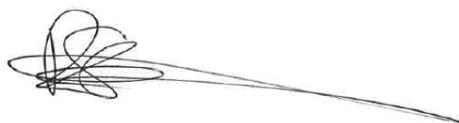

- Publish these results both internally and externally.

- Continue with agreed action plans for workforce development as stated within our strategy, including improving our focus on succession planning, staff retention, nurturing our values and investing in our staff and their development so that Family Action becomes an even better place to work.
- Continue to review our flexible working practices to ensure that the practices we already have in place are applied fairly across all levels of roles, subject to fulfilling organisational needs, and addressing any barriers that are identified.
- Continue to review our family-friendly and health & wellbeing policies, and practices that support childcare or other caring responsibilities to ensure equal support is available to all staff and is inclusive of all families.
- Strengthen our safer recruitment policies and practices, and review whether there is more that we can do to promote equal opportunities at all levels of our workforce.
- We have implemented leadership and management programmes to support aspiring, new and existing managers to develop their skills further.
- To continue to review our exit interview information to better understand if one gender is leaving for specific reasons compared to the other.
- Improve our HR reporting and people information through the implementation of a new integrated HR and payroll system, enabling better quality of information to be reported, and potential gender imbalances to be identified and addressed as appropriate, for example:
 - Reviewing the numbers of male and female applicants for specific roles.
 - Regular salary reports for new starters to ensure salaries are consistently applied at each pay grade.
 - Evaluation of the number of female and male employees accessing maternity, paternity, and shared parental leave entitlements, and the proportion still in post 12 months after returning.
 - Evaluation of the number of female and male employees employed at each pay grade.
