Change4Life Service:

We were delighted to be awarded delivery of a Change4Life service across the Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea and Westminster City Council in 2020. Change4Life takes a holistic and community-based approach, improving and promoting the physical and emotional health & wellbeing of children and their families as well as expectant parents with a lasting impact.

You will join a dynamic service that takes a preventative, whole systems approach to tackling health inequalities and childhood obesity at a time when supporting disadvantaged members of our society is more necessary than ever.

Your Impact:

This role provides a unique opportunity to be part of an innovative service that supports two local authorities in tackling health inequalities through a holistic health promotion and community-based approach.

As a Perinatal Coordinator, you'll be passionate about transforming the lives of expectant and new parents, young children and their families. Sharing and embracing the Public Health agenda, you will work with local partners to promote national and local public health priorities including healthier eating, increasing physical activity, oral health and emotional wellbeing.

You will play a key role in Change4Life's mission to:

- Responsibility for planning, delivering (with a holistic approach) and evaluating our free health promotion clubs to expectant parents and birth partners and to parents of children aged 0-12 months, in partnership with our friendly, supportive team and a wide range of local partners.
- Align with other services that promote similar messages
- Promote a whole systems approach to reduce health inequalities
- Be responsive and flexible to the changing needs of those the service supports

Main Requirements (see job description & person specification for more details):

- You will be a motivated and passionate worker, taking a positive, inclusive and creative approach to communicating health promotion messages to families and expectant parents, valuing the voice of service users.
- Experience of working in a related field and/or a degree (or equivalent level) qualification in a relevant subject.
- You will strive for excellent standards, robustly ensuring a quality, outcome driven and accessible service.

- You will also have a genuine commitment to a whole systems approach and working in partnership with expectant and new parents and their families in order to provide evidence based holistic support that seeks to reduce health inequalities across communities.
- Appointments are subject to Family Action receiving a disclosure from the Disclosure and Barring Service that we consider acceptable.

Benefits:

- an annual paid leave entitlement that commences at 25 working days, rising each April by one day, subject to a maximum of 30 working days plus bank holidays
- up to 6% matched-pension contributions
- flexible working arrangements and new starters have the right to make flexible working requests from day one of employment
- enhanced paid sick leave and paid family leave provisions
- eye care and winter flu jabs vouchers
- cycle to work scheme
- investing in your professional development with ongoing quality training and career development opportunities
